ARTS29001 Mastering a Research Proposal

Term 1 - 2027

Profile information current as at 21/09/2026 02:01 am

All details in this unit profile for ARTS29001 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

Mastering the Research Proposal is the first of two coursework units in the Master of Arts (MA) course. The unit will assist you in articulating a research focus and an answerable research question in a specific humanities or arts discipline. The unit provides discipline-context research training for the two subsequent dissertation units. You will acquire advanced research skills in your chosen discipline. Specifics of the learning materials and assessment will be negotiated with your supervisor in the academic discipline. The research training includes the formation of research aims, questions, conceptual models and applicable research methodologies, as well as research administration processes such as ethics applications, risk management and project milestone planning.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback

Feedback

The mid-term panel was an important chance to hear from other academics about how they approach a refine a research proposal.

Recommendation

The mid-term panel will be continued.

Feedback from Feedback from a supervisor

Feedback

Establishing regular meeting times for the whole cohort of students and supervisors throughout the term has benefited the students.

Recommendation

Regular meeting times will be scheduled into future timetables.
