General Information

Overview

This unit provides a broad and coherent study of urban design with some depth in specialist areas. These studies will develop your creative skills and critical judgement of urban design issues that are essential in professional practice, thus necessary content in the Bachelor of Building Design course. Topics review and deepen your existing knowledge of sustainable communities, environmental issues, and the movement of pedestrians and traffic in urban development. Specialist focus on heritage, diverse cultures, urban poverty, human behaviour, and emergency management in urban locations will be introduced. These studies and assessment tasks will develop skills in the exercise of critical thinking and judgement in identifying and solving problems. You will undertake teamwork to collaboratively and responsibly evaluate strategies in urban design.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Feedback

Students report a rich learning experience from this unit that enhances their experience of growing building design by requiring that the design is developed by working from the outside - or the urban context into the building design - rather than focussing just on the design development of the building.

Recommendation

Students will continue to develop a design for an urban area as appropriate to their research of the urban, social and environmental context.

Feedback

Working as part of team supports students learning from each other and grows professional communication skills in preparation for work in industry.

Recommendation

Students will continue to work together in teams for the main assessment item.

Feedback

The set of assessments connect and develop students' understanding of Urban Design and Development well as the subject develops.

Recommendation

The assessments will continue to work together to help students develop an understanding of the subject.
