General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will work and learn autonomously, demonstrate professional capabilities expected of a graduating industry practitioner, formulate and adhere to a research plan, communicate progress, and prepare interim reports and presentations. You will define and scope a research topic by applying detailed technical knowledge and industry based methodologies, assessing safety and risk factors, preparing a feasible plan and drafting an implementation schedule. The unit will give you an opportunity to develop your personal and interpersonal skills and use effectively different modes of communication. Note: Prior to the commencement of term and before an enrolment can be accepted, you must confirm with the unit coordinator that you have identified a suitable research interest and an academic supervisor is available. Students who have successfully completed BLCN14036 or BLSV14012 should not enrol in this unit.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Unit Comments Report- Term 1- 2024

Feedback

Students found that the lecturer has extensive knowledge to be teaching for this unit. They find visual resources used by the lecturer have been effective and helpful with working through the content.

Recommendation

Same lecturer is recommended for the next delivery. If that lecturer is unavailable, it is recommended to use a lecturer with similar capacity with broader industry and research experience. It is recommended to adopt the similar learning and teaching strategy for the next unit delivery with more visuals and examples to describe the concepts, situations and scenarios for improved clarity.

Feedback

It would be beneficial if some of the research skills are taught at an earlier point in the degree. It has added a layer of difficulty to learn the skills and undertake such significant assignments in the same period. However, the current unit offering has given a positive experience.

Recommendation

Built Environment team needs to review and analyse the ways of embedding research skills and knowledge in other units of BE courses. It is recommended that the Built Environment team come up with an action plan to achieve the target within a feasible time such as within three years.
