Term 2 - 2025

Profile information current as at 23/11/2024 12:14 am

All details in this unit profile for BLCN28002 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In Construction Risk Management you will learn the construction-specific nuances of risk management. You will also learn why standard insurance programs have unique implications for contractors and how to evaluate effective strategies for managing construction risks. Viewed through the lens of the construction risk and insurance framework, this unit provides you with an understanding of the strategies for mitigating, transferring, and insuring construction risks. You will learn how risks are commonly allocated in a construction project and how to identify variances between a contractor's insurance coverage and the total project risks. You will gain the knowledge to monitor and identify statutory changes and judicial rulings that impact the contractor's liabilities as well as the coverage they have in place to mitigate potential liabilities.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Communicate with students

Feedback

The face-to-face delivery of lectures is important and should be sustained.

Recommendation

This unit will be delivered face-to-face in both Sydney and Brisbane.

Feedback from Unit evaluation

Feedback

Overall it is good to learn this unit as it relates to generic risk management skills in construction.

Recommendation

The teaching team will continue to adopt the generic risk management framework for the construction industry in the learning materials.
