General Information

Overview

This unit supports you to identify and develop core professional practices and skills required by all graduates to succeed in your chosen career in the field of Medical Sciences. You will learn about medical science disciplines and develop foundation skills and knowledge. You will learn about your personal attributes; and develop study, organisational and planning skills which can be applied to your future career. An inter disciplinary, integrated approach will be provided so that you will understand the interrelationships across all disciplines of medical science and how each one is associated with clinical work, research and education. You will learn about your chosen profession and career options and plan your course and overall study path to build the knowledge and skills to reach your desired career outcomes. Throughout this unit, your academic, critical and creative thinking skills will be enhanced so that you can effectively engage in future studies.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback, engagement data

Few students engaged with the additional online learning materials.

Recommendation

Encourage students to engage with and emphasise the importance of online learning resources to support lecture and tutorial content. Revise all links and content regularly to ensure students receive the most up to date information.

Feedback from Student feedback

Feedback

Some students were unsure how to locate lecture recordings and assessment feedback.

Recommendation

Include additional information in the unit introduction to show students how to navigate Moodle and access weekly content and feedback.
