CHEM12077 Food Science & Analysis

Term 2 - 2027

Profile information current as at 09/09/2026 03:02 am

All details in this unit profile for CHEM12077 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will learn theoretical and practical applications in food science and analysis. You will become familiar with laboratory compliance procedures, interpret risks and appropriate risk-minimisation approaches. The theoretical concepts will include an overview of food science, systems and sustainability, food chemistry and composition, food quality and safety, food preservation, food additives, foods and food products, fermentation, microorganisms, biotechnology, food packaging, environmental concerns and processing, and food regulation and labelling. Contents covered in this unit will provide a sturdy basis for studies in food science, systems and sustainability. Contents covered in this unit will enable you to be able to understand the implications of food science and analysis associated with manufacturing, environment, biotechnology and regulations. Accompanying the theory, you will enhance your practical skills by learning the operation and maintenance of common instrumentation used for food analysis, perform wet chemical analysis, data interpretation and appropriate communication of the results.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Students highlighted strong lecturer engagement and passion for the subject, with the residential school identified as the most valuable and relevant component of the learning experience.

Recommendation

Continue to prioritise high-quality, hands-on residential school experiences and maintain strong teacher-student engagement, while exploring ways to extend this interactive and applied learning approach across the broader unit delivery.

Feedback from Informal verbal feedback during residential school and coordinator reflection.

Feedback

Students indicated a preference for more consistent engagement with the teaching team throughout the term, beyond the residential school period.

Recommendation

Recommendation: Introduce more structured and regular touchpoints (e.g., scheduled Zoom Q&A sessions and check-ins) throughout the term to maintain engagement beyond the residential school.

Feedback from Informal verbal feedback during residential school and coordinator reflection.

Feedback

Students indicated that access to laboratory assessment exemplars, combined with guided support during residential schools, significantly enhances their understanding by clarifying expectations, experimental processes, and practical applications.

Recommendation

Provide clear laboratory assessment exemplars alongside structured guidance during residential schools to reinforce expectations, improve clarity in experimental processes, and support student learning outcomes.
