COIT20272 Mobile App Development Project

Term 2 - 2027

Profile information current as at 04/09/2026 06:42 pm

All details in this unit profile for COIT20272 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this integrative capstone project, you will develop a significant and authentic mobile application. Specifically, you will employ the technical and professional skills that you have developed in your course of study to contribute to the development of an authentic web, hybrid, or native app. You will apply a relevant software engineering methodology, taking into account best practices in testing, quality assurance, and cybersecurity. You are required to use and document typical project management processes to ensure that the project is delivered on time and within budget.

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes - in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit Coordinator reflection

Feedback

Forming larger groups to work on larger-scale projects, where each student contributes based on their individual skills, significantly enhances job readiness post-graduation. This hybrid approach, combining elements of capstone projects and internships, offers students a comprehensive experience. By using this method, students can develop a broader range of professional skills, often exceeding those gained through traditional capstone projects or internships, as demonstrated during this term's implementation.

Recommendation

Continue implementing the hybrid approach of larger group projects, combining elements of capstone projects and internships, to enhance students' job readiness and provide a comprehensive, industry-relevant learning experience.
