General Information

Overview

This work placement capstone unit enables you to apply the theories, content knowledge and skills you have learned throughout your degree to a professional environment through either an on-site placement or an online research project placement. On-site placements may be with a regulatory agency, criminal justice agency, government department, local council, or community-based organisation. This practical experience will involve 100 hours of workplace experience, which may be accrued intensively or distributed throughout the term. Students undertaking the research project placement will complete 100 hours of work on a dedicated project under the supervision of the project owner. The research project placement can be undertaken wholly online, by distance. The university will assist you in finding suitable placement arrangements, depending on your location and availability. All students are required to undertake coursework in addition to their placement hours, which will include assessments relating to the weekly modules on professional expectations, skills, and careers.
