General Information

Overview

The contemporary justice arena requires significant cooperation between different agencies, Non-Government Organisations (NGOs) and community groups. In this unit you will develop practical strategies to manage communication and collaboration between disparate organisations, enabling them to balance their interests and desired outcomes. You will identify the importance of thorough stakeholder analysis and the inclusion of stakeholders into processes and accountability practices. The concept of public value provides a framework through which you will demonstrate the significance of justice practices to participants and the community at large. You will also develop interpersonal and digital skills to facilitate project management, cultural change and communication in professional networks.

Assessment Tasks

1 Strategic Evaluation

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Strategic Evaluation - 40%

Written report, 1500 words, due in examination week.

Task Description

This unit focuses on practical strategy skills and the strategic evaluation task gives you the opportunity to show what you have learned from the coursework and from working with the simulation. This short paper requires you to think about strategic planning and its application to criminology work, to integrate references and theories from this unit and to conduct your own research

It includes these elements:

- What is the most important thing you have learned about strategy in this unit?
- What is one aspect of strategic discourse that you are uncertain of or think needs more empirical evidence?
- Running up to the final endgame of the sim, what was the strategy that you adopted? Write this down before the end of the simulation. After the conclusion, critically re-evaluate how well this strategy worked.
- Given the outcome of the learning scenario for your particular group, what do you think would be alternative ways of solving the problem (describe at least three) and justify which you think would be the best approach, with reference to course materials and concepts.
- How do you think the experience of the simulation translates into practice?

There is no preferred format or set template for this paper. It must be referenced.

2 Scenario Design

Assessment Type

Case Study

Task Description

Scenario Design - 30%

Case Study, 1000 words, due week 7

Task Description

In this unit you will engage with a learning simulation that requires you to gather and negotiate resources in order to defeat problems. In this task you will design a new problem, following design specifications and suitable for use in the simulation in the future.

In addition to the problem itself, you will research a suitable justice sector case study that frames your problem, perhaps something from the news. This research includes analysis of the media conversations around the case study and reference to relevant criminology literature.

You will be provided with design specifications for the problem. There is no set format for the case study portion of the assignment, but it should be referenced.

Task Description

This unit emphasises practical and applied learning, to draw connections between the reading/preparatory material and the real world context in which it is used. Each workshop is designed around a challenge that tests your skills, with the support of a small group of peers. To evidence what you have learned, you will write individual reflective reports on each of the workshop activities in which you participate.

Your Workbook will include a total of six reports of your choice. Each report is approximately one half to one page in length and worth 5% for a total of 30%.

If you are unable to attend any workshops, these challenge tasks may be completed in a study group that you organise with peers at your own convenience.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
