General Information

Overview

An understanding of the concepts of invasive and non-invasive diagnostic cardiovascular procedures is necessary in the field of echocardiography. In this unit you will be introduced to colour and spectral Doppler echocardiographic assessment techniques. You will analyse echocardiographic measurements to assess systolic and diastolic function and perform haemodynamic calculations. You will compare and contrast cardiac pressures derived using echocardiography to those obtained using cardiac catheterisation. You will apply your knowledge to a variety of cardiovascular pathologies and case studies. You will formulate differential diagnoses and consider patient management strategies within an ethical framework of best practice and patient safety. You will perform the standard echocardiographic protocol, with colour and spectral Doppler, in the simulated laboratory environment while demonstrating professional behaviour and reflective practice. Attendance is required at practical activities.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Some normative values varied across the lecture slides throughout the term, leading to contradictory information.

Recommendation

Revision of lecture material has commenced. All normative values will be checked and corrected as necessary.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Students would like more revision resources other than weekly revision questions.

Recommendation

Students are provided with recorded lectures and downloadable lecture slides. Revision questions are also provided to allow for self-guided study. Revision questions will be updated to ensure adequate topic coverage. Students will be encouraged to attend weekly tutorials for topic review and Q & A, with reminders posted on Moodle to address historically low attendance.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Students believe the skills assessment should reflect their improvement over the term rather than their performance on a single day.

Recommendation

Alternative approaches to incorporate ongoing assessment elements will be considered.
