General Information

Overview

This unit encompasses a broad ranging introduction to economic theory and analysis as well as a study of some applications of economics to economic systems and to enterprises. You will study microeconomics (how individual businesses and sectors operate) and macroeconomics (how an economy works as a whole). You will gain some understanding of why institutions are very important in an economy, and how internal and international trade creates economic wealth. Key goals in the unit will be to raise awareness of the importance of economic systems, introduction to the different fields of economic theory that are relevant to business, and develop some analytical skills.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Students comments

A guidance related to references would be useful.

Recommendation

Provide examples on how to reference correctly using APA style.

Feedback from Self-reflection on students performance

Student performance varied across terms

Recommendation

Continue monitoring grade distributions by term and identify students who may require additional academic support early in the teaching period.

Feedback from Self-reflection on students evaluation

Student feedback was generally positive

Recommendation

Continue providing clear guidance on assessment expectations, academic skills, and how students can effectively use feedback to improve their learning throughout the teaching period.
