ENAR12006 Rock Engineering

Term 2 - 2027

Profile information current as at 13/09/2026 12:09 am

All details in this unit profile for ENAR12006 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

You will be introduced to critical concepts in the application of rock mechanics to mining and geotechnical operations. The methods and procedures you will learn will cover rock testing, design of underground openings, and pillar and ground support design. You will gain an understanding of how underground mining methods can impact infrastructure and aquifers through subsidence. You will also learn how to analyse the stability of slopes generated by open-pit mining operations. Throughout the unit, you will be required to demonstrate professional levels of teamwork and communication. In this unit, you must complete compulsory practical activities. Refer to the Engineering Undergraduate Course Moodle site for proposed dates.

- Mixed Mode

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Email

Feedback

Most of the students are full-time workers. The residential school time should be in the same week as other mining units in T2.

Recommendation

The residential school should be scheduled for the same week as other mining units in T2, as this will reduce travel for students.

Feedback

The current unit has 5 assessment sections, which is above the average.

Recommendation

The new unit proposal has been developed to reduce the assessment items from 5 to 3. Two writing assignments should be combined into one, resulting in more comprehensive knowledge coverage.
