ENAR13001 Economic Geology

Term 1 - 2026

Profile information current as at 22/01/2025 08:53 pm

All details in this unit profile for ENAR13001 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit is an introduction to geological resources: metals, non-metals, coal, oil and gas, and construction materials. It prepares you to assess and effectively communicate the geological setting, quality and grade of geological resources. The unit balances this with consideration of infrastructure and methods of accessing and extracting the geological resources in a socially, culturally and environmentally responsible manner. You will work individually and collaboratively to consider resource geology issues. You will investigate resource geology in a defined context and carry out standard sampling strategies and apply techniques for locating resources, grade control and resource estimation by undertaking sustainable practices.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback

Feedback

Field trips to mine-sites and mining industry service industries provided insights into the industry and application of learnt theoretical knowledge.

Recommendation

Continue to offer authentic learning experiences during Residential Schools via continuing industry and mine site visits to demonstrate how theory learned is applied in "real world" mining practice.

Feedback from Lecturer reflections

Feedback

Additional material and information on conducting resource estimations.

Recommendation

To source and add additional examples of resource estimations into teaching material.
