General Information

Overview

Continuing professional development (CPD) is an essential activity for any practicing engineer. Engineers and other professionals engage in CPD for a variety of reasons, including staying up-to-date with current developments in their discipline, professional networking, and facilitating career progression. In this unit, you will demonstrate your commitment to CPD by undertaking and recording professional practice exposure. You will reflect on what you have learned from professional practice activities, and you will develop a strategic approach to personal and professional growth in the workplace.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE

Students appreciated the use of effective and useful learning materials that supported their understanding of the unit.

Recommendation

Providing high-quality and relevant learning materials should continue to support students' understanding and engagement with the unit content.

Feedback from Unit Coordinator evaluation based on workshop attendance and observations.

Feedback

Consider scheduling the workshop at a time that maximises accessibility for all students.

Recommendation

The workshop should be offered at suitable times to ensure all students have access and the opportunity to participate.
