General Information

Overview

This unit aims to provide students with an understanding of the interpretation and application of statutes, legislative frameworks and principles that form the foundation for environmental health practice. In particular, this unit will detail various legislative tools for the management of public health issues in different settings. The prosecution process and gathering of evidence will be discussed, along with a detailed discussion on the role of the environmental health practitioner in relation to public health, environmental and planning legislation. Major topics covered include: an introduction to law and government, public health law, planning and environmental law, local laws, investigation processes and procedures.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from TaSAC advice

Feedback

H5P study guides will become inoperable owing to H5P update.

Recommendation

Redesign weekly study guides in new version of H5P, incorporating more interactive features.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback

Student response rate to Student Unit & Teaching Evaluation (SUTE) survey was low.

Recommendation

Include additional reminders to students throughout the later weeks of term, explaining why their feedback is important.
