

HIST13018 Australia on the World Stage: History and Politics

Term 1 - 2024

Profile information current as at 19/05/2024 09:16 am

All details in this unit profile for HIST13018 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit you will look at Australia and its place in a changing world. It begins with the human settlement of the Australian continent and its 'international' trade before 1788. You will then explore the impact of colonisation, the development of democratic institutions, and the emergence of a modern, multicultural nation. In the first half of the unit, you will consider key moments when Australia was on the world stage, such as the gold rushes, the Federation Movement, the world-leading women's rights movement, participation in the World Wars, and the failed republic campaign. In the second half of the unit, you will explore Australia's relationship with various nations. This unit challenges you to consider how Australia became the nation that it is today and how it has managed its relations with other countries. While this is a history unit, it also covers many topics in the arts including politics, geography, and international relations.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Assessment Tasks

1 Primary Source Analysis

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Primary sources are crucial to sound historical research. Overwhelmingly people read about figures from history rather than reading what those people actually said in their own words. In this task, you will choose one primary document and offer a sophisticated analysis.

Although the focus of this assessment is on a single primary source, you will be expected to conduct research to understand its broader context. A requirement of this task is that you consult at least four (4) tertiary-standard academic works of your own finding in addition to your study guide. This means a book chapter or peer-reviewed journal article. If unsure, consult the unit coordinator about suitability before including in your analysis.

The primary source analysis should be 1000 words in total (a 10% variation is acceptable). The word count is considered from the first word of the introduction to the last word of the conclusion. It includes quotes. It excludes the cover page, footnotes, and bibliography.

Your analysis should be set out like an essay with an introduction, body paragraphs and a conclusion. It should answer all of the following questions:

- Who created this source and who was the intended audience?
- When was it created? What was going on in Australia and the world at the time?
- What was the significance of the source when it was made?
- Does the source contain bias or other limitations?
- How does this source contribute to our knowledge of the past?

Before submission, ensure that your analysis meets the assessment criteria listed below.

Assessment Criteria

The analysis is marked in a similar style to essays drawing on the CREW principle. This stands for: Content, Research, and Essay Writing.

Content:

- presentation of accurate, relevant and unbiased historical evidence
- evidence that the source has been closely read and understood
- All five analysis questions have been addressed

Research (and referencing):

- evidence drawn primarily from scholarly texts
- acknowledgement of all sources of ideas/evidence (footnote) and any quotations (footnote and quote marks)
- correct use of the Turabian referencing style

Essay Writing:

- meeting the required number of words, the bulk of which should be own wording
- logical structure/organisation of ideas
- clear, concise and correct written English

2 Online Quiz

Assessment Type

Online Quiz(zes)

Task Description

Through Moodle you will undertake a online quiz consisting of thirty (30) questions to test your understanding and knowledge of the unit content. The questions will be drawn from the lectures and the Study Guides. The quiz is comprised of true/false questions, one or two word responses, and multi-choice questions with four options. The quiz must be completed within 90 minutes and on the first attempt.

Essay

Task Description

You must select ONE (1) of the questions on Moodle and answer it in an essay of 2,000 words (10% variation is acceptable).

References and bibliography must be included in the Turabian referencing style. Please read the instructions carefully and consult the essay-writing and referencing guides provided on the HIST19031 Moodle website.

CQUni Library holds a range of Australian history books and there are additional resources in the Digital Readings (DRs) on Moodle. You should also search the CQUni Library databases for relevant scholarly articles on the topic of your choice. Only use articles from peer-reviewed journals or other reputable academic sources, and be sure to provide accurate citations (footnotes). You are expected to consult a minimum of six (6) tertiary-standard academic books and/or journal articles in the preparation of the research essay

Before submission, ensure that your research essay meets the assessment criteria listed below.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
