General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will examine contemporary issues in human resource management (HRM) and explore the impact that new developments in people analytics have on an organisation's ability to strategically attract, recruit, retain and manage its human resources in a competitive environment. In addition, this unit will raise your awareness of the relevance of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander cultures in good business practices, as well as apply lessons from those cultures for good ethical, social, and governance outcomes in HRM contexts.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Assessment Tasks

1 Presentation (Group)

Assessment Type
Presentation

Task Description

In this assessment task, you are required to

- form a group of 3 to 4 students from the same workshop.
- prepare a 10-minute PowerPoint (PPT) presentation in class for the CEO and top management team, based on up to three topics noted below in relation to human resource management (HRM) challenges. This PPT presentation should be a preview of your written report for the CEO (see Assessment 2).

Your PowerPoint presentation should

- provide a comprehensive and critical analysis of contemporary HRM challenges and/or opportunities related to your chosen topic(s).
- have recommendations for short-term and long-term action to address the above HRM challenges.
- provide at least three real-world examples to support your analysis.
- cite recent (2019 to 2024), and relevant peer-reviewed academic journal articles throughout the PPT slides, and include them in a reference list, using the APA referencing style.

Other information

- Oral presentations: All members of the group should participate equally in the presentation.
- Submission: One member will submit the presentation on the Moodle site on behalf of the team.
- Feedback will be provided in the class after your presentation.

Assessment Due Date
Week 5 Monday (5 Aug 2024) 9:00 am AEST

Return Date to Students

Verbal feedback will be provided in class and marks will be released to students two working weeks after the submission.

Weighting
15%

Assessment Criteria

Your presentation will be assessed on the extent to which it meets each of the following criteria:

1) Quality of research and analysis: Draw from a topic from the unit and refer to recent and relevant peer-reviewed academic journal articles. (20%)

2) Application of theory: Incorporate theory and literature to identify key issues and provide recommendations to meet the assessment requirements. (20%)

3) Visual aid and structure: Quality of visual aids (PPT slides); Concise and structured presentation with an introduction, main presentation, and conclusion. In-text citations and the reference list using the APA referencing style. (20%)

4) Delivery: Quality and professionalism of the oral presentation delivered within the allocated time. (35%)

5) Teamwork: Work collaboratively as a team. (5%)

You will lose marks for this task if you are not present on the day.

Penalties for late submissions are applied according to policy (5% per day).

Important: Plagiarism (i.e., high Turnitin similarity index) and other academic misconduct are taken very seriously. Such incidents will be reported to the Academic Integrity Unit of the University and may result in a "zero" mark.

Submission Instructions
ONE member of your group uploads PPT slides (no video) on Moodle.

Learning Outcomes Assessed

- Identify key contemporary issues throughout the employment cycle and evaluate those which could affect HRM effectiveness.
- Critically analyse key contemporary HR issues and their implications for effective HRM.
- Evaluate approaches that could be used to address contemporary HRM issues.

2 Report (Group)

Assessment Type
Group Work

Task Description

Based on the topic your group has selected in Assessment 1, develop a fully written report to the CEO.

In line with your PPT presentation, your report should

- provide a comprehensive and critical analysis of contemporary HRM challenges and/or opportunities related to your chosen topic(s).
- have recommendations for short-term and long-term action to address the above HRM challenges.
- provide at least three real-world examples to support your analysis.
- cite at least eight recent (2019 to 2024), and relevant peer-reviewed academic journal articles throughout the report, and include them in a reference list, using the APA referencing style.

Submission: One member can submit the report on the unit Moodle site on behalf of the group.

Important: Before commencing this task, carefully read the detailed assessment task and the marking rubric available on the unit Moodle site.

Assessment Due Date
Week 7 Monday (26 Aug 2024) 9:00 am AEST

Return Date to Students

Written feedback and marks will be released to students two working weeks after the submission.

Weighting
35%

Assessment Criteria

A full marking rubric will be available on the Moodle site. Your report will be assessed on the extent to which it meets each of the following criteria:

1) Executive summary: Clearly presented and summarised the report succinctly. (5%)

2) Research: A thorough knowledge of the relevant material demonstrated through the use of an appropriate body of quality sources. (25%)

3) Analysis: Identification of the issue(s), critical analysis, and clear argumentation supported by evidence. (25%)

4) Application of theory/literature: Application and/or integration of relevant theory and literature in the discussion to address the assessment task. (25%)

5) Communication: Logical structure including a clear introduction, conclusion, and recommendation; Clear and concise written communication. (15%)

6) Referencing: Correct use of the APA reference style. (5%)

Penalties for late submissions are applied according to policy (5% per day).

Important: Plagiarism (i.e., high Turnitin similarity index) and other academic misconduct are taken very seriously. Such incidents will be reported to the Academic Integrity Unit of the University and may result in a "zero" mark.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?
A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?
A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?
For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre (ALC) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest
If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help
If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work
Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
