General Information

Overview
Revenue Law is an important consideration for those engaging in legal practice insofar as issues arising out of revenue law will impact on advice given in a range of different situations. This unit gives an understanding of the underlying concepts of revenue law focusing on the Income Tax Assessment Acts and supporting legislation as well as looking at other important areas of revenue law practice which impact on advice given such as Goods and Services Tax and Fringe Benefits Tax. The unit also considers state taxation, such as stamp duty, land and payroll tax.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback, prior results and self-reflection

Feedback
Students need more detailed feedback on their work.

Recommendation
More detailed general feedback on how to tackle a tax problem question will be focused on.

Feedback from Self-reflection on exam results and observation of student performance on the exam.

Feedback
Students need shorted questions in the time-limited exam.

Recommendation
The quantity of problem-solving required for the exam should be reviewed and revised.

Feedback from Self-reflection

Feedback
Students may lack proper understanding of the advantages and pitfalls of the use of AI in solving tax problems.

Recommendation
The unit should include training on the use of AI in solving tax problems, and assessments should be designed so that they allow the use of AI and test the students' effectiveness in using it.
