General Information

Overview

This final work integrated learning unit further builds on the knowledge, skills and professional behaviour developed during the course. Theoretical and technical knowledge will be applied to a professional work environment in a specialised field of diagnostic Medical Laboratory Science. You will perform technical skills and analyse the outcomes to meet the competency and skill required of an entry-level Medical Laboratory Scientist. You will perform, and reflect on, safe operations and quality management in the medical laboratory, with due regard for legislation, regulation and accreditation. Behavioural aspects of professional practice are emphasised and you are expected to reflect on your own communication, decision-making and team-work skills. Critical appraisal of performance will enable you to attain competency in your professional, technical and analytical skills.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Email communication, Self-reflection & industry feedback during site visits

It is preferred that students be allocated to placement during the final term of their studies to allow for prompt employment post placement if available/offered

Recommendation

Where possible, we will aim to allocate students to their lab placement during the final term of their studies in CM18.

Feedback from Student placement site evaluation & email communication.

Feedback

Many students continue to be highly satisfied with the placement allocations in pathology (& research labs)

Recommendation

Continue to maintain the strong relationships with placement providers to ensure continuation of offers for future cohorts of CM18 students.
