MEDS12003 Superficial Structures in Ultrasound

Term 1 - 2025

Profile information current as at 24/11/2024 12:38 pm

All details in this unit profile for MEDS12003 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit explores the sonographic assessment of normal and pathological superficial structures. You will apply knowledge of anatomy, physiology and embryology to conduct sonographic examinations of superficial structures in the laboratory setting as well as utilising simulated clinical scenarios and case studies to critically reflect on sonographic problems. Development of the knowledge, skills and attitudes required to perform an ultrasound examination of the thyroid will be assessed within a simulated environment.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE unit comments

Feedback

Some students indicated that the time of 20 minutes for the Online Test Assessment 3 was too short. In addition students were frustrated with the layout

Recommendation

Improve the navigation and reevaluate the timing of Assessment Item 3 for an enhanced student experience.

Feedback from Unit Co-ordinator Reflection

Some weeks, the lecture material is outdated

Recommendation

Continue updating lectures and e-reading articles for next unit delivery.

Feedback from SUTE unit comments

Students enjoyed the case studies in tutorials

Recommendation

Maintain case study delivery in the style of the questions within the Online test assessment 3. Highlight the importance of attending these as a way of students monitoring their progress and preparation for the assessment.
