MEDS12006 Ultrasound in Obstetrics and Gynaecology
Term 2 - 2025

Profile information current as at 05/09/2024 01:23 pm

General Information

Overview

This unit introduces you to obstetric and non-gravid pelvic ultrasound. In this unit you will build upon your anatomical knowledge of the pelvis to include the anatomy of the gravid pelvis. You will study the sonographic appearance, techniques and procedures applicable to pathology of the non-gravid pelvis, including techniques for communicating your findings. You will develop skills in sonographic scanning techniques of the transabdominal pelvis. You will be introduced to fetal development and the sonographic appearance of the gravid pelvis. You will identify family-centred care strategies employed in the care of the obstetric patient and the ethical, medico-legal and professional issues relevant to safe practice.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Self Reflection

Feedback
Lectures for MEDS12006 are of a very high quality but could do with refreshing.

Recommendation
Continue updating lecture material for next delivery.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback
Case studies supported student learning. Students asked for more case studies.

Recommendation
Consider increasing the number of case studies.

Feedback from SUTE

Feedback
Students appreciated the moments of neuroscience and commented they would apply it to future studies.

Recommendation
Maintain neuroscience component of tutorials for the benefit of the student as a whole not just a student of MEDS12006.

Feedback from Self Reflection

Feedback
A number of students struggled with academic writing in the written assessment

Recommendation
Provide regular reminders of academic writing resources available to students through multiple channels.
