OCCT11002 Introduction to Occupational Therapy Theory and Practice
Term 1 - 2025

Profile information current as at 05/09/2024 01:15 pm

General Information

Overview

This unit will provide you with a clear understanding of the fundamental theoretical frameworks that guide occupational therapy practice. An historical overview of the profession will be presented so that you can contrast the changes and plot the evolution of occupational therapy practice from the profession's foundations to the present day. The practical application of occupational theory as it drives contemporary occupational therapy practice will be introduced via one key occupational therapy practice model. You will be introduced to the regulatory and professional bodies guiding ethical occupational therapy practice locally and internationally. Skill development will focus on the acquisition of qualiative and quantitative information gathering techniques including interviewing and the application of standardised and non-standardised assessments.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE comments, teaching staff reflections.

Feedback
Some students did not feel well prepared for the first essay assessment task.

Recommendation
It is recommended that more explicit preparation for the first assessment task be incorporated into class content, including continued engagement with the ALC.

Feedback from SUTE comments

Feedback
Students did not always understand the relevance of some content.

Recommendation
It is recommended that links between content and clinical practice be highlighted more explicitly.

Feedback from SUTE comments, informal student feedback, teaching team reflections.

Feedback
Simulated interview practice and assessments were important learning experiences.

Recommendation
It is recommended that interview skills development through use of simulated clients remains an integral part of the unit.

Feedback from SUTE comments

Feedback
Students requested greater variety in learning resources and class structure to suit different learning styles.

Recommendation
It is recommended that class content and structure be reviewed and revised as needed.
