OCCT12002 Occupational Justice: Local and Global

Term 2 - 2026

Profile information current as at 23/01/2025 01:26 pm

All details in this unit profile for OCCT12002 have been officially approved by CQUUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will be introduced to the evolving concept of occupational justice and explore situations where people are deprived of meaningful occupation. You will use an occupational justice lens to look from a local and global perspective at situations where people are experiencing challenges with occupational participation and engagement. The role of the occupational therapist as a facilitator of occupational justice will be examined, using both an occupational justice framework and also occupational therapy practice models. You will develop an understanding of how occupational justice sits with social justice concepts and considerations, including concepts such as social innovation.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE comments

Feedback

While most students commented favourably on the hybrid format, some students found the online lectures challenging.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the hybrid format for this unit be continued in 2024, and that strategies for supporting all students be implemented, such as in-person drop in sessions.

Feedback from SUTE comments

Feedback

Some students found the assessment task descriptions difficult to understand.

Recommendation

It is recommended the assessment task descriptions be reviewed for clarity.
