General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will develop your understanding of health and wellbeing issues that affect specific subpopulations in the context of cross-cultural communities. This knowledge will support effective working relationships with colleagues in an organisation or community, developing partnerships that promote the co-generation of knowledge within these organisations or communities and allow you to work effectively as a Public Health practitioner. The focus of the unit is on understanding Australia's cultural context and the collaborative nature of Public Health practice that involves communities, health and non-health organisations, and practitioners from a range of disciplines.
