PMSC12001 Procedures and Skills in Paramedic Care

Term 1 - 2026

Profile information current as at 23/01/2025 06:31 am

All details in this unit profile for PMSC12001 have been officially approved by CQU University and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will develop an understanding of paramedic care through the investigation of underpinning theory and practice of procedural applications in the discipline. This will include examples of clinical investigations of the neurological, respiratory, cardiovascular, gastrointestinal and endocrine systems including specific paramedic interventions such as cannulation, ventilation techniques, defibrillation and trauma management at an introductory level. Your knowledge and skills will be developed through a series of coursework exercises and practical laboratory sessions. The knowledge and skills developed in this unit ensure you meet the Paramedicine Board of Australia's registration requirements through a series of coursework exercises and practical laboratory sessions.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Unit and Teaching Evaluation.

Feedback

Students enjoyed the subject and the delivery style of the lecturer.

Recommendation

Continue to create lectures with the green screen and present in an engaging format to share enthusiasm for the teaching of skills and procedures.

Feedback from Student Unit and Teaching Evaluation.

Feedback

There was a lot of content to cover prior to residential school, but felt it was structured logically and explained to convey understanding.

Recommendation

Continue to deliver content in manageable lectures and explain to support students understanding. Consider placement of residential schools within the term.

Feedback from Student Unit and Teaching Evaluation.

Feedback

Academics and sessional academics across all campuses made the residential schools enjoyable experience and enhanced their learning.

Recommendation

Continue to use academics and sessional academics who teach to a high standard and are well received by students.

Feedback from Student Unit and Teaching Evaluation.

Feedback

The combination of four-day residential schools for both PMSC12001 and PMSC11004 was too long.

Recommendation

Consult with HOC and consider how the duration of these residential schools can be adjusted to assist with a positive student experience.
