General Information

Overview

This unit will introduce you to advanced clinical assessment, combining the skills of clinical history taking with those for physical examination, whilst incorporating knowledge of cultural and linguistically diverse populations. You will synthesise clinical information while integrating underpinning knowledge of common pathologies and pathophysiology in the critical care context. You will be able to formulate an appropriate clinical management plan to treat the critically ill or injured and employ reflective practice principles to effectively revise ongoing management plans as required. You will also critically reflect upon the leadership skills required at a critical care level.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Emails

Feedback

Numerous students complimented the amount and quality of feedback that was given.

Recommendation

Continue to give in-depth feedback on the complexities of critical care assessments and exploring decision-making pathways.

Feedback from Zoom sessions

Feedback

The students who utilised the one-on-one Zoom sessions complimented the understanding of critical thinking required at the postgraduate level.

Recommendation

The students will be frequently encouraged to utilise the one-on-one Zoom sessions.

Feedback

Students praised the education on using Gen AI to improve their academic writing and research skills.

Recommendation

We recommend expanding educational initiatives on the appropriate use of Gen AI. This approach will help ensure that students are well-informed and can utilise Gen AI effectively and responsibly.
