

PSYC13026 Psychology Capstone

Term 2 - 2024

Profile information current as at 29/07/2024 03:19 pm

All details in this unit profile for PSYC13026 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This capstone unit provides you with the opportunity to reflect upon what you have learned from your undergraduate psychology degree, and to apply your discipline-specific knowledge within a professional context. There will be a focus on the transition into the workforce or further study, including the opportunity to review and finalise your professional ePortfolio, and to reflect on your values and current competencies as a future professional in the field of psychology. You will work in a small team to complete an applied major group project to address a real-world problem faced by an external organisation. Working as scientist-practitioners, your project (such as a research proposal, grant application, literature review, intervention, or evaluation), will be based on contemporary research evidence and consideration of cultural and ethical issues, and will highlight your discipline-specific and professional knowledge and skills.

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Class and Assessment Overview

Recommended Student Time Commitment

Each 6-credit Undergraduate unit at CQUniversity requires an overall time commitment of an average of 12.5 hours of study per week, making a total of 150 hours for the unit.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit Coordinator reflection.

Feedback

Several students failed the unit because they did not satisfy the minimum mark for Assessment 2 (portfolio). It was not possible to offer a reattempt because this option was not stipulated in the unit profile.

Recommendation

Unit Coordinator to discuss with the Deputy Dean (Learning and Teaching) about adding a statement to the Unit Profile, allowing students to resubmit Assessment 2. Any changes will be made in line with the university's policy on assessments.

Feedback from Student end of term evaluation

Feedback

Several students commented on technical issues with Portfolium, and questioned whether it was the most effective tool for showcasing their skills, knowledge and experience.

Recommendation

Maintain the portfolio assessment, but consider alternatives to the Portfolium platform.

Feedback from Student Personal Reflections (Assessment 1, Part D)

Feedback

The group contract (part of Assessment 1), was extremely beneficial in setting up the groups during the capstone unit, and has real application beyond university.

Recommendation

Keep the group contract as part of Assessment 1A, and continue to offer resources and tools to allow groups to develop group contracts effectively.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Demonstrate career readiness and insight into the skills, knowledge and personal attributes necessary to meet the standards of performance and practice expected in the workplace.
2. Develop creative solutions to issues faced in the workplace.
3. Critically reflect on the learning associated with the capstone project and identify further areas of learning and professional development.
4. Identify and display interpersonal skills and teamwork to a level commensurate with a professional workplace.

In this unit, students will achieve all of the graduate competencies as outlined by the Australian Psychological Accreditation Council (APAC) (<https://www.psychologycouncil.org.au/standards>). These include:

- Competency 1.1: Comprehend and apply a broad and coherent body of knowledge of psychology, with a depth of understanding of underlying principles, theories and concepts in the discipline, using a scientific approach.
- Competency 1.2: Apply knowledge and skills of psychology in a manner that is reflexive, culturally appropriate and sensitive to the diversity of individuals.
- Competency 1.3: Analyse and critique theory and research in the discipline of psychology and communicate these in written and oral formats
- Competency 1.4: Demonstrate an understanding of appropriate values and ethics in psychology
- Competency 1.5: Demonstrate interpersonal skills and teamwork
- Competency 1.6: Demonstrate self-directed pursuit of scholarly inquiry in psychology.

Term Specific Information

A major component of this unit involves working in a small group. Active participation in the group task is expected from week 3 to week 12. Your contribution to the group task and your ability to work within the group will be assessed by your peers and the unit coordinator. Please ensure you are prepared for this, and actively communicate and engage with your group members throughout the term.

Workshops are delivered fortnightly. The 'off weeks' are expected to be used for groups to get together and work on the group project. Attending workshops is not compulsory (except week 12), however, participation from all students is greatly encouraged to maximise the learning for all. Workshops will be recorded, and videos will be posted on Moodle.

Please ensure that you are available to attend in week 12. This is when you and your group will present live (via Zoom) to your partner organisation. A schedule with the exact presentation time will be released during the term.

Assessment Tasks

1 Capstone Project

Assessment Type

Group Work

Task Description

Please note that this is a 'must pass' assessment item. That is, you must meet the minimum grade for this assessment piece to pass the unit overall.

This task involves a consultancy-based work-integrated learning (WIL) project. As part of a small group, you will collaborate to address a real-world problem presented by an industry partner. Your team will develop a tailored solution and deliver a professional pitch to the industry partner, demonstrating how your solution effectively meets their, or their clients needs. There are four elements to this assessment task (Parts 1A to 1D), as outlined below.

* Parts 1A and 1B are to be submitted as a group. Parts 1C and 1D are to be submitted individually.

PART 1A- Group contract*- Due by Vacation Week, Monday 12 August, 09.00am AEST

Groups work best when all members understand and agree to expectations. As such, groups will be required to develop and agree to a group contract (often referred to as a Memorandum of Understanding [MoU] or Team Charter) in the early stages of their capstone project. The group contract will need to clearly articulate relevant aspects such as the aim of the project, the role of members, a communication plan, a schedule of meetings, a code of conduct (e.g., plagiarism), and timelines/deadlines for completion. A basic MOU template is provided in Moodle but groups are encouraged to develop one that best reflects their group (there are many exemplars online).

PART 1B- Group presentation*- To be presented live (via Zoom) in the workshop session in Week 12 (Wednesday 2 October, at a scheduled session between 9am and 5pm AEST).

A series of real-world problems will be made available. You must choose one of these as the focus of your capstone project. These problems will be proposed by an external partner (e.g. local or state government department, not-for-profit organisation, research group, community group, mental health provider), and represent a significant issue currently faced in the community. Working in small groups as scientist-practitioners, you will be required to present an evidence-based feasible solution to the problem. This project represents an opportunity to practice your group work skills and apply your theoretical understanding of human behaviour to practical 'real life' applications that you will likely face in the workplace.

Groups of approximately 4 will be allocated by the unit coordinator based on the topic selected. Topics will be made available in week 1, and groups will be allocated by the end of week 2. Active participation in the group task is expected from week 3 to week 12. Your contribution to the group task and your ability to work within the group will be assessed by your peers (see Assessment Part 1C). You will be given a chance to reflect on your experience in Assessment Part 1D. Please ensure you are prepared for group work, and actively communicate and engage with your group members throughout the term.

The outcome should resemble a research proposal or pitch, detailing an innovative way to address the problem. For example, to design an evaluation or intervention that the partner organisation might be able to implement. Solutions must be evidenced-based and feasible. The proposal must be presented as if you are either (a) employees of the partner organisation presenting to management who have tasked you with finding a solution to this problem, or (b) as external providers seeking to win a grant or tender to carry out this work that is being offered by the partner organisation.

Your group's pitch will be presented live (in real-time) via Zoom in week 12. The partner organisation will be present to receive the pitch and provide feedback. Presenting in person and confidently articulating your ideas and responding to questions represent critical skills required for working in many organisations, and this project seeks to emulate this environment.

The format of the presentation is flexible and will largely reflect the nature of the problem and solution. Some suggested parts of the pitch might include a background/literature review on the issue, a project logic, a service model, an evaluation plan, a timeline, and a budget. The process used to arrive at the solution may also form an important part of the pitch. You are encouraged to use visual aids (e.g. Powerpoint slides, video clips) and handouts.

Presentations should be around 10-12 minutes with an additional 8 min for questions from the audience (presenters will be cut off at 13 minutes). Each group member is required to present a component of the presentation. The week 12 workshop will be a conference-style event, so you will need to plan your schedules to be available to attend (a schedule of presentations will be developed later in the term). You will need to seek approval and make arrangements with the Unit Coordinator if one or more of the group is not able to be in attendance. In this instance, available group members should be present for the question time component of the presentation. Formal feedback relating to the presentation will be given by the unit coordinator and informal feedback from the organisational partner.

You will be working closely with the partner organisation throughout the term. Depending on the availability of the partner organisations, there will be at least three available 'touch points' across the term. These represent an opportunity for groups to engage with representatives from the organisation to ask questions and obtain feedback before the delivery of the final product. The unit coordinator will also be available to provide feedback to groups on their pitch before they are delivered in week 12.

PART 1C- Self and peer evaluation of group work- Due by Week 13, Tuesday 8 October, 09.00am AEST
Your ability to work in a group setting (communication, collaboration, commitment) will be assessed by yourself and your peers (group members). This will enable your group work skills to be evaluated and help ensure accountability in relation to your role and contribution to the group task. This feedback will be used to evaluate teamwork skills and the eligibility of group members to pass the unit. As such, it is important to be as fair and honest as possible in your assessment. An evaluation form assessing six criteria will be made available on Moodle for completing this task.

PART 1D- Personal reflection- Due by Week 13, Tuesday 8 October, 09.00am AEST
You will be required to write a brief reflection on your engagement and experience with the major group project, including your engagement with the project, team processes, engagement with industry representatives, broader professional issues, cultural safety, and how this experience has contributed to your own professional identity, values, and future employability goals.

A personal reflection form, with a series of questions relating to your group work experience, will be made available in Moodle for completing this task. There is no word count for each response, as long as it adequately addresses the question.

Assessment Due Date

Week 12 Wednesday (2 Oct 2024) 9:00 am AEST

Group submissions: Part 1A (group contract) is due Vacation week, Monday August 12, 09.00am AEST. Group presentation (1B) is due during the Week 12 workshop. Individual assessment items (parts 1C, and 1D) are due Tuesday October 8, 09.00am AEST

Return Date to Students

Grade and feedback to be returned to students within 2 weeks of the due date.

Weighting

Pass/Fail

Minimum mark or grade

To achieve a pass for Assessment 1 you will need to achieve at least 60/100.

Assessment Criteria

*Please note that Parts A and B will be given as a group grade. That is, all contributing members of the group will receive the same mark and feedback for the group contract and the group presentation.

Each part will be graded according to the criteria outlined below:

PART 1A- Group contract (20%)*

This component will be graded out of 20 marks. Groups must submit a group contract (in the form of an MoU or team charter) that addresses the following:

- Project goals and objectives (3 marks)
- The role of all group members (4 marks)
- A communication plan (e.g., mode of communication, a schedule of meetings, how issues and conflicts will be addressed) (4 marks)
- Project timelines/deadlines for completion (4 marks)
- Identification of risks, assumptions, and obstacles that may be encountered by both your group and the project, and how these might be mitigated (4 marks)
- Be agreed upon by all members of the group (1 mark)

PART 1B- Group presentation (40%)*

This component will be graded out of 40 marks. Marks will be allocated according to the criteria outlined below.

1. Structure and flow (8 marks)
2. Content (20 marks)
3. Communication and engagement style (6 marks)
4. Collaboration (6 marks)

A more detailed marking rubric will be provided in Moodle. Informal feedback relating to the presentation will also be given to you from the partner organisation.

PART 1C- Self and peer evaluation of group work (15%)

This component will be graded out of 15 marks. Using the six criteria outlined below, you will evaluate each member of your group, as well as yourself, relating to group work and engagement in the group task. The unit coordinator will take the self and peer scores into account, and provide a weighted score. A more detailed evaluation form will be provided in Moodle.

Criteria

1. Participation in developing ideas and planning project (2.5 marks).
2. Willingness to discuss the ideas of others (2.5 marks).
3. Cooperation with other group members (2.5 marks).
4. Interest, engagement and enthusiasm in the project (2.5 marks).
5. Participation in leading/facilitating discussion (2.5 marks).
6. Quality of completed work (2.5 marks).

PART 1D- Personal reflection (25%)

This component will be graded out of 25 marks. Marks will be allocated according to the criteria outlined below. It is important that statements relating to experiences and opinions are supported with specific examples. For example, instead of saying, 'Our group worked well together', articulate and give examples showing how the group worked well.

Reflecting on the capstone project (9 marks)

- Q1. Summarise the makeup of your group, the topic/issue selected and summarise the final pitch/product (e.g., what was the issue and the nature of your group's solution). (2 marks)
- Q2. Do you believe your group delivered a solution that was ultimately useful to them? (provide a rationale to justify your response) (2 marks)
- Q3. What were 3 things that contributed to the success of your group's pitch? (3 marks)
- Q4. Provide an example where the capstone project showcased a skill you developed in your undergraduate degree. (2 marks)

Reflection on group work (8 marks)

- Q5. Personal contribution: Describe your personal role in the group, interest and enthusiasm in the project, participation in leading and facilitating discussion, and opinion about the quality of the final product. Provide specific examples. (4 marks).
- Q6. Assessment of team experience: Describe how well your group cooperated, communicated, and made decisions, how the group handled challenges, the benefits of group work, and the challenges of group work. Be sure to use specific examples. (4 marks).

Evidence of personal development (8 marks)

- Q7. Articulate (using specific example/s) at least one new understanding or insight you have gained about yourself, and at least one new understanding about group work because of your capstone experience. (4 marks)
- Q8. Discuss at least one thing you would do the same, and at least one thing you would do differently to improve your teamwork experience in the workplace (providing specific recommendations). (4 marks)

Submission

Online Group

Submission Instructions

The group contract (1A) should be submitted as a group via Moodle. The group presentation (part 1B) will be delivered via Zoom during the week 12 workshop. Individual Parts 1C and 1D should be submitted via Moodle using the template provided.

Learning Outcomes Assessed

- Demonstrate career readiness and insight into the skills, knowledge and personal attributes necessary to meet the standards of performance and practice expected in the workplace.
- Develop creative solutions to issues faced in the workplace.
- Critically reflect on the learning associated with the capstone project and identify further areas of learning and professional development.
- Identify and display interpersonal skills and teamwork to a level commensurate with a professional workplace.

2 Portfolio

Assessment Type

Portfolio

Task Description

Please note that this is a 'must pass' assessment item. That is, you must meet the minimum grade for this assessment piece to pass the unit overall.

For this assessment task, you will be required to finalise your ePortfolio via the Portfolium website. As part of this process, you will be asked to reflect on your values and current competencies as a psychology graduate and future professional in the field of psychology.

Portfolium is an academic portfolio network allowing you to showcase your education and work accomplishments, and connect with other professionals and organisations. You will be given free access to this account for life. For students commencing the degree from 2022, the ePortfolio/Portfolium was first introduced as part of 'PSYC11011- Personal and Professional Psychology', and should have been updated throughout your degree. If you have created an account as part of another course, you will need to ensure it is updated to meet the assessment criteria for this task. If you do not currently have a Portfolium account/profile, you will need to establish one as part of the assessment. Resources for creating your portfolio will be provided to you in Moodle.

Use this task to curate an amazing version of yourself to show employers upon graduation. As such, it is important that your profile displays a consistent narrative, and highlights what is unique about you. There will be a minimum number of criteria you need to meet to achieve a pass.

Assessment Due Date

Week 7 Monday (26 Aug 2024) 9:00 am AEST

Submit via Moodle by providing the link to your portfolio. Privacy settings must be checked.

Return Date to Students

Grade and feedback returned within 2 weeks of the due date.

Weighting

Pass/Fail

Minimum mark or grade

To achieve a pass on this assessment you will be required to have achieved 70/100.

Assessment Criteria

This assessment will be graded out of 100 marks. To achieve a pass on this assessment you will be required to have achieved a minimum mark of 70/100. Please make sure you check your privacy settings to ensure that the profile, projects, and resume are visible.

Marks will be allocated according to each of the following criteria:

An up-to-date profile (5 marks)

- A Portfolium profile that includes your name, location, education, profile and background photo, and tagline text (2 marks)
- Highlight at least one accomplishment, achievement, certificate, award or experience (1 mark)
- Connection to at least 4 of your colleagues (e.g., from your group task, teaching staff) (1 mark)
- Upload a professional resume (1 mark)

Reflection on your career aspirations and core values (15 marks)

In the 'Introduction' section of your profile, write a mini biography/statement of at least 250 words, that:

- Provides appropriate insight into who you are, what you are currently doing, what you have done or where you have come from, why you are interested in psychology, and the career you wish to engage in when you finish your degree (7 marks)

- Complete the free online values test <https://personalvalu.es/> to discover your core values. Once you have completed the values test, reflect on how your employment aims match your core values (8 marks)

Reflection on your skills and knowledge from the psychology degree (30 marks)

This section requires you to be familiar with the course learning outcomes of your degree (e.g. CC43), and the Australian Psychology Accreditation Council (APAC) Graduate competencies for undergraduate (level one)

Under 'Education' on your profile, ensure the details of your current degree (e.g. Bachelor of Psychological Science), university, and completion dates are provided. In the 'description' section of the degree, write:

1. A personal statement of at least 100 words, outlining your experience and engagement with the undergraduate degree, and your attainment of key graduate capabilities (e.g., skills and knowledge) (7 marks)
2. Provide an evaluation of at least 100 words of how successfully you have acquired these graduate capabilities, including a description of your strengths and weaknesses, and how this relates to your values and professional identity (8 marks)

Under 'Courses' on your profile, enter a minimum of eight of the level 2 (PSYC12xxx) and level 3 (PSYC13xxx) psychology units that you have completed as part of your psychology degree (at CQUniversity or elsewhere). For each unit:

1. Provide the title, unit code, and date studied.
2. Rewrite (paraphrase) the unit overview and unit learning outcomes into a short statement (1 paragraph) highlighting the key skills and knowledge you learned from the unit (15 marks)

Details of the course learning outcomes can be found in the CQU Handbook. Details relating to the unit learning outcomes are available from the unit profiles (found on the Moodle site of each unit [under 'information' on the toolbar], or individual units listed in the Handbook under 'course structure').

Evidence of APAC competencies (50 marks)

Upload at least 5 pieces of academic work from your degree that highlight the skills and knowledge of a psychology graduate, as outlined in the APAC level one graduate competencies. This includes:

1. Demonstration of your written communication skills on a topic related to psychology (e.g., essay)
2. Demonstration of your oral communication skills (e.g., oral presentation)
3. A research report or similar demonstrating your knowledge and application of psychological research methods (e.g., research report)
4. An example of when you have applied knowledge and skills of psychology in a manner that is reflexive, culturally appropriate and sensitive to the diversity of individuals
5. Demonstrate interpersonal skills and teamwork (e.g., a product from a group task- it can be the group presentation from this unit).

Upload each piece of work as a 'Project' in Portfolium. For each item, you must include:

1. The piece of work (e.g., Word document, video file or link to YouTube, Powerpoint)
2. The project task/description
3. A brief reflection about what you learned from the experience (e.g. skills, knowledge, experience), and
4. Why/how this task and learning is relevant to psychology in the workplace or your future career. That is, link the project/artefact to your skills.

Each piece of work and reflection is worth 10 marks.

Submission

Online

Submission Instructions

When completed, please provide the unit coordinator through Moodle with an accessible link to your ePortfolio. Ensure that the portfolio and contents is set to 'public', or that a private link is provided (see Moodle for instructions).

Learning Outcomes Assessed

- Demonstrate career readiness and insight into the skills, knowledge and personal attributes necessary to meet the standards of performance and practice expected in the workplace.
- Develop creative solutions to issues faced in the workplace.
- Critically reflect on the learning associated with the capstone project and identify further areas of learning and professional development.

- Identify and display interpersonal skills and teamwork to a level commensurate with a professional workplace.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
