General Information

Overview

This unit is intended to provide clinical training in the implementation of culturally-responsive, evidence-based, clinical psychology interventions to meet the needs of culturally and linguistically diverse populations, including Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. Specifically, this unit will focus on developing competencies in working with complex presentations with a strong emphasis on the skill of case conceptualisation and treatment planning.

- Rockhampton

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE Unit Comments

Feedback

The lecturer's clinical experience and knowledge allowed for some productive discussions which really facilitated learning

Recommendation

Continue to provide opportunities in class for the lecturer to share their knowledge of the topics, to help facilitate student learning.

Feedback

It may be better for the lecturer to allocate topics, rather than letting students choose topics, so that weekly the presentations were consistent with learning one set of intervention skills at a time.

Recommendation

Lecturer to consider allocating the student presentations to match the topic being taught in class.

Feedback from SUTE Unit Comments, and Teaching Team Reflections

Feedback

The assessment criteria may be better suited to a non-graded unit, so the focus can be on learning practice-based skills.

Recommendation

Consider moving to a non-graded unit.
