

SOWK11014 Contemporary Human Services

Term 1 - 2024

Profile information current as at 19/05/2024 06:07 am

All details in this unit profile for SOWK11014 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit will introduce you to social work and human services in Australia and the changing context for professional practice within contemporary society. You will develop an understanding of the historical and cultural context of social work, and human services more broadly, within the Australian welfare state and how these services are currently organised and delivered. You will be able to conceptualise social justice, inequality and disadvantage and their significance to professional practice. You will understand the values, ethics and principles of social work and human services, and how these inform methods of practice. This unit will focus on the human services context of professional practice and the broader challenges and opportunities within the social services sector. Consideration will be given to reflective practice and the 'use of self' and how social workers navigate complex systems of service delivery.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback

Feedback from students throughout the course in 2021 was overall positive. Students commented on the benefit of the residential school and the content and format of these.

Recommendation

Continue to provide engaging residential schools to support student learning.

Feedback from Evaluations

Feedback

Students provided feedback on the assessments, stating each were helpful in their learning. There was some feedback that some of the assessments were difficult.

Recommendation

Assessments reviewed and greater clarity about task requirements undertaken.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Examine the historical and contemporary context of service delivery within Australian human service organisations;

Assessment Tasks

1 Assessment 1 – Historical analysis of social work (900 words 10%+/-)

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Aim: As a social worker in training (SWIT), this written essay aims to deepen your understanding of the historical progression of social work, focusing on its contribution to addressing social justice issues and inequality in Australia.

Task: You will undertake a historical exploration, tracing the evolution of social work from its early days to contemporary social work practice. Your analysis will not only highlight key milestones and social work figures but also critically examine how historical practices and policies have influenced contemporary approaches to service delivery, social justice, and inequality in the field. This reflective journey is an opportunity to connect the past with the present, recognising how historical insights inform and enrich current social work practices.

Instructions for Essay:

Cover Page: Include your name, student number, unit code, assessment details, and an accurate word count.

Introduction (50 words): Introduce the aim of your essay and its significance in understanding the evolution of social work and its current practices concerning social justice and inequality.

Historical Foundations (350-400 words): Describe the development of social work in Australia by focusing on a major policy or field of social work practice. Explain its beginnings, the changes it underwent, and the reasons for those changes. Discuss how society, laws, or economic factors led to these changes. Explain how this evolution affected social work's approach to the pursuit of social justice and the profession's approach to inequality. Your writing should clearly show the timeline of changes and provide insight into how social work adapts to social change.

Eras of Change (350-400 words): In this section, place the evolution of the specific policy or practice you've chosen within the broader context of social work's history in Australia. Discuss how each era's social, economic, and political climate influenced the policy or practice. Highlight key events or shifts in societal attitudes that corresponded with the changes in your chosen example.

Conclusion (50 words): Conclude your essay by summarising key insights and reflecting on how a historical perspective enriches your understanding of current social work practices within Australian human service organisations.

References: List all the sources you have cited in your essay, following the appropriate academic referencing style.

3 Case Study Analysis: Social Work's Response to Inequality and Social Justice Issues (1900 words 10%+/-)

Assessment Type

Case Study

Task Description

Aim

You are required to demonstrate your understanding of the pivotal role social work plays in social justice and human rights issues in Australia and in the global context. You will do this by identifying a social issue that leads to inequality and critically discuss how social work contributes to addressing the issue, drawing on evidence. You are to select one social issue (Australian or global context) from the list below and consider the strategies and challenges to addressing the issues at a macro level.

Australian Social Issues:

First Nations Rights and Inequalities: Exploring issues such as the overrepresentation of First Nations Australians in the criminal justice system, health disparities, and the ongoing impact of historical policies like the Stolen Generations.

Homelessness: Investigating the causes and consequences of homelessness in Australia, including the lack of affordable housing and the impact on mental health.

Mental Health: Addressing mental health stigma, access to mental health services, and the relationship between mental health issues and social inequality.

Child Protection: Examining the child protection system, including issues around child abuse and neglect, out of home care, and the challenges of ensuring child safety and well-being.

Poverty and Economic Inequality: Investigating the impact of poverty on various populations within Australia, including the working poor, and the effects of economic inequality on access to education, healthcare, and housing.

Global Social Issues:

Refugee and Asylum Seeker Rights: Exploring the treatment of refugees and asylum seekers, including issues related to detention, resettlement, and the challenges of integration into new communities.

Human Trafficking: Investigating global human trafficking networks, including the exploitation of individuals for labor and sex, and the role of social work in addressing and preventing trafficking.

Gender Inequality: Addressing issues related to gender inequality, including gender-based violence, access to education for girls and women, and the fight for equal rights and opportunities.

Access to Clean Water and Sanitation: Exploring the impact of limited access to clean water and sanitation on communities in developing countries, including health outcomes and the role of social work in advocating for improved infrastructure.

Climate Change and Environmental Justice: Investigating the social impacts of climate change, including displacement, health risks, and economic challenges, particularly on vulnerable populations and the role of social work in advocating for sustainable practices and policies.

Instructions

Within this assignment, the set out will be as below:

1. Cover page- include your name, student number, course code and assessment details and word count
2. INTRODUCTION (50-100 words)
3. Identify and explore one of the social issues related to inequality within the Australian or global context. Describe the scope of the issue linking this to social work. (500 words)
4. Critically discuss one of the dominant discourses you have explored in the unit and the impact of the discourse on the social issue you selected (for example, a neoliberalised discourse on individual responsibility for social and economic well-being and the impacts of neoliberal policies on social services and inequality). (550-600 words)

5. Critically discuss how social work addresses or can address inequality and promote social justice with regard to this issue. (550-600 words)

4. CONCLUSION (50 words)

Presentation and Structure (5 marks)

The essay should be well-organised, with a clear structure that enhances the clarity and coherence of the arguments. Attention must be given to the layout and strict adherence to the submission requirements, including the cover page and word count specifications.

Identification and Exploration of a Social Issue Related to Inequality (10 Marks)

A clear identification and comprehensive exploration of a social issue from the provided list leading to inequality within the Australian or global context. The scope of the issue should be well-described, with explicit linkage to social work.

Critical Discussion of One Dominant Discourse and Its Impact on the Social Issue (15 Marks)

A detailed critical discussion of one of the dominant discourses explored in the unit and its impact on the social issue, including the causes and the perpetuation of the issue. The analysis should draw on evidence from the literature and demonstrate an understanding of the discourse's implications.

Critical Discussion of How Social Work Addresses Inequality and Promotes Social Justice (15 Marks)

A thorough critical discussion on how social work addresses or can address inequality and promote social justice concerning the identified issue. The essay should provide insights into strategies and challenges at a macro level, supported by evidence from literature and practice.

Appropriate Use of Referencing (APA 7th Edition) (5 Marks)

References should be accurately cited and listed at the end of the document according to APA 7th edition guidelines. The essay should demonstrate a consistent and correct application of referencing throughout.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
