General Information

Overview

The world continues to change rapidly in ways that affect well-being, social and economic development and the natural environment. In this unit, you will explore the causes, patterns, trends and localised impacts of major global changes, including population growth, migration, urbanisation, globalisation, socio-economic inequality and environmental change. You will investigate linkages between these changes and sustainability and adapt your thinking to new contexts in a changing world.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Staff feedback

A staff post-5-year course review workshop has suggested enhancing the content and perspectives of First Nations Peoples in the unit.

Recommendation

The learning material will be updated to enrich the content and perspectives of First Nations Peoples.

Feedback from Student feedback and staff feedback

Feedback

The learning material should be applicable and valuable for the learning of various disciplines in the BA.

Recommendation

The learning material will be refreshed and updated to enhance multidisciplinary applicability.
